The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (“Bureau”) has reviewed the practices of Portfolio Recovery Associates, LLC (“Respondent”) regarding its purchase of charged-off consumer debts from original creditors and other debt buyers, and its subsequent collection efforts including filing lawsuits against consumers, and has identified violations of sections 1031(a) and 1036(a)(1) of the Consumer Financial Protection Act of 2010 (“CFPA”), 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531(a), 5536(a)(1), and sections 807, 807(2)(A), 807(5), and 807(10) of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (“FDCPA”), 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(5) and 1692(e)(10)). IV.

Bureau Findings and Conclusions

The Bureau finds the following:

24. PRA is a debt purchaser and collector headquartered in Norfolk, VA. PRA is one of the nation's largest buyers of defaulted loans, credit card accounts, car loans and other debts, which it purchases from creditors at a substantial discount to the face value of the debts. PRA has also purchased in the past from other debt buyers. It then attempts to collect these debts.

25. PRA collected Debt related to consumer financial products or services. Accordingly, PRA is a "covered person" as defined by the CFPB, 12 U.S.C. § 5481(6). See also 12 U.S.C. § 5481(5) and (15)(A)(x). PRA is also a "debt collector" as defined in Section 803(6) of the FDCPA. 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(6).

26. In 2013, PRA purchased more than $4.7 billion of charged-off Debts from banks, consumer and auto finance companies, and retail merchant finance companies.

PRA'S DEBT BUYING PRACTICES

27. Prior to PRA purchasing a Debt Portfolio, PRA typically receives an electronic file ("Sale File"), from the Seller that includes information about the Consumers and the Debts, including, but not limited to, name, address, social security number, as well as the current balance, contract interest rate, and dates of origination, last payment, and charge-off.

28. PRA is aware that significant inaccuracies may exist in the Sale Files it purchases, including that some Debts' balances were not reduced by a consumer's subsequent payments. For instance, when a PRA senior manager raised a concern about the poor quality of sellers' balance information and asked how PRA can know actual balances owed if it does not receive information on post charge-off payments, PRA's Vice President for Collections responded, "We don't. 90% of our cases are default judgments. We show the judge the math and if no one disputes we get our judgment. Debtor has the right to defend and prove us wrong. If they show payments we've missed we amend the complaint."

29. Language in PRA's purchase agreements puts PRA on notice that information in the Sale File might be inaccurate, incomplete, or otherwise unreliable. For example, a debt seller may have specifically disclaimed the accuracy of information in the Sale File, notified PRA that documentation is unavailable, or notified PRA that a percentage of accounts in a portfolio are disputed or barred by the applicable statute of limitations. For example, a 2009 purchase agreement with one large bank explicitly stated that account balances are “approximate” and “may not reflect credits for payments made by or on behalf of the [consumer] prior to the cut-off date.”

30. The purchase agreements stated that PRA was purchasing the loans based on PRA’s independent examination, study, inspection and knowledge of the loans. However, PRA did not routinely check the account information in the Sale Files it purchased against the original creditor’s records before contacting consumers, even when it knew or should have known the Sale File contained unreliable information.

31. Some of PRA’s purchase agreements put limitations on the availability of account-level documents, thus putting PRA on notice that it may not be able to access account-level documentation on all accounts purchased that would enable it to perform proper due diligence on Sale Files whose accuracy PRA has reason to doubt, investigate consumer disputes, or prove its case in contested litigation. Limitations on the availability of account-level documents in PRA’s contracts included:

- a. notifying PRA that supporting documents may only be available for a percentage of the accounts, but not identifying which accounts lacked documentation;
- b. charging PRA a fee for each supporting document it requested;
- c. increasing the per-document fee after PRA requests a certain percentage of documents from that Debt Portfolio or requests documents after a certain date (e.g., $1 per document after year one, $5 per document after year two);

or

- d. prohibiting PRA from contacting the original creditor for information or supporting documents.

32. A Seller's failure to provide media has never led PRA to terminate a contract or renegotiate its terms.

PRA'S PRACTICES RELATED TO CONSUMER DISPUTES

33. PRA did not monitor its portfolios of debts for accuracy. PRA relied primarily on consumer disputes to determine whether a portfolio was unreliable and would assume its accuracy unless consumers came forward with evidence of problems in material numbers. However, until March 2012, PRA did not even track consumer disputes by Seller to determine whether a particular portfolio of loans it purchased was unreliable.

34. Prior to February 2013, PRA did not routinely request account-level documentation if a Consumer disputed the Debt in writing more than 30 days after PRA sent a notice of debt pursuant to section 809 of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. § 1692g. Rather, PRA's policy stated that "ordering documents will be at the discretion of the dispute department since it is not mandated that we order them" and that PRA was "under no obligation to investigate" the disputed debt's validity before continuing collection.

35. PRA does not investigate oral disputes. If consumers do not put their oral disputes in writing within 14 days, PRA will continue to demand payment without determining the Debt's legitimacy.

36. PRA did not alter its collection practices when collecting on Portfolios that it knew or should have known contained unreliable information. Consumers receiving collection attempts from PRA had no way of knowing that PRA had reason to suspect the accuracy of the information.

PRA'S PRACTICES RELATED TO OBTAINING CONSENT TO COMPUTER DIAL
CONSUMERS' CELL PHONES

37. PRA representatives sometimes use a computer dialing system to place calls to phone numbers associated with PRA accounts. Federal law prohibits using an auto-dialer to dial a Consumer's cell phone without that Consumer's express consent.

38. For approximately a year, and ending in August 2013, PRA gained or attempted to gain consumers' consent by representing to Consumers that they can only prevent collection calls to their cell phones before 9 a.m. if they consent to receive computer dialing system calls on their cell phones. If a representative manually dials a Consumer's cell phone and reaches the Consumer, PRA's policy until August 2013 was to require the representative to ask for the Consumer's consent to add the cell phone number to the computer dialing system in return for preventing calls to the Consumer's cell phone before 9 a.m. PRA penalized representatives who failed to adhere to this policy.

39. The FDCPA currently contains a provision prohibiting debt collectors from calling Consumers at an "unusual" or "inconvenient" time, presumed to be before 8 a.m. or after 9 p.m. local time. 15 U.S.C. § 1692c.

PRA'S PRACTICES RELATED TO LEGAL COLLECTIONS

40. PRA represented to Consumers expressly or by implication that their Debts have been selected for legal action based on a review by an attorney. In fact, PRA used a computerized scoring model to select Debts for Legal Collections. This scoring model selected approximately 4.5% of PRA's Debts for referral to Legal Collections. The 4.5% of Debts that entered this channel were the source of 28% of PRA's total collections revenue. PRA collected approximately $319 million through its legal collections channel in 2013 alone.

41. Once PRA refers a Debt for Legal Collection, specialized collectors contact the Consumer and attempt to arrange a settlement of the Debt. In most instances, no attorney has reviewed these Debts prior to these settlement efforts.

42. On numerous occasions, these collectors, who identify themselves as the Litigation Department, made statements to Consumers such as "[PRA] will move forward with [its] litigation process" unless the consumer makes a payment to "stop the lawsuit." When Consumers hesitated to accept the payment plan, the Litigation Department collectors on numerous occasions countered with statements such as "You know that this is the Litigation Department, right?" or stated that the purpose of the call is "to see if we can get this resolved without the matter going to court." Prior to July 17, 2014, Collectors from the Litigation Department did not disclose whether or not an attorney had reviewed the Consumer's Debt.

43. Despite repeated references to “litigation” during the legal collections process, PRA in numerous instances had not reviewed or decided whether to file suit at the time collectors make those statements.

PRA’S LITIGATION PRACTICES

44. PRA uses dozens of law firms across the country to file approximately 3,000 suits every week. Consumers respond to less than six percent of those actions. In 2012 alone, PRA’s internal and external counsel filed over 160,000 Debt Collection Lawsuits in state and local courts.

45. PRA’s recovery rate for post-suit collections is three times larger than PRA’s recovery rates from other collection channels.

46. Over a three year period, PRA placed tens of thousands of Debts with Law Firms staffed by fewer than five attorneys. For example, PRA placed approximately 27,000 Debts with a New York law firm employing just three attorneys and 21,000 Debts with a North Carolina law firm employing only five attorneys. PRA does not set a limit on the number of Debts it will place with a Law Firm based on the number of attorneys employed by the firm.

47. PRA did not require its Law Firms to review account-level documents prior to filing suit. PRA prohibited them from contacting the original creditor or debt sellers directly to request such documents. PRA does not review pleadings before outside counsel files them.

48. PRA did not inform its Law Firms when an original creditor or debtor has specifically disclaimed the accuracy or validity of the Debt, has notified PRA that documentation is unavailable for some Debts, or notified PRA that a percentage of Debts in a portfolio are disputed or barred by the applicable statute of limitations.

PRA'S MISLEADING COLLECTION AFFIDAVITS

49. In many jurisdictions, PRA has been able to obtain a settlement or a default judgment against a Consumer using an Affidavit as its only evidence. PRA also uses Affidavits as proof in contested matters.

50. In Affidavits used to support PRA Debt Collection Lawsuits, PRA's affiants on many occasions represented that they have personal knowledge of original creditors' account-level documentation corroborating consumers' debts when in fact they did not. For example, PRA affiants testified:

- a. "This affidavit is based upon my personal knowledge . . . and my review of . . . the business records transferred to Account Assignee from [Account Seller]";
- b. "I am authorized to make the statements ... herein, and do so based upon a review of . . . account records transferred to Account Assignee from [Account Seller]";

- c. “According to the records transferred to the Account Assignee from Account Seller, and maintained in the ordinary course of business by the Account Assignee, there was due and payable from [Consumer] to the Account Seller the sum of $[Debt] with respect to [account number], as of [date of sale] with there being no known un-credited payments, counterclaims or offsets against the said debt as of the date of the sale.”

51. In numerous instances, affiants made the representations discussed in the preceding paragraph after merely reviewing a computer screen containing the scant information produced by Sellers in data files and not after a review of any account level documents such as account applications, terms and conditions of contracts, payment histories, monthly credit card statements, or charge slips.

52. PRA’s affiants on numerous occasions represented that the terms and conditions document attached to the Affidavit specifically applied to the Consumer’s Debt.

53. In fact, in numerous instances, the attached terms and conditions were often generic and did not necessarily apply to the Consumer’s Debt.

54. In numerous instances, PRA through its affiants represented directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication that they have knowledge of the content of an account agreement.

55. In fact, in certain instances the affiants could not have such knowledge because in the same filings, PRA represented it was unable to locate the agreement the affiant would have to review to gain that knowledge.

PRA'S COLLECTION OF TIME-BARRED DEBT

56. PRA occasionally threatened or filed suit on Debt that was past the applicable statute of limitations.

57. After learning that it had obtained judgments on Debts that were beyond the statute of limitations, PRA did not move to vacate these judgments or otherwise remediate those Debts that had already been reduced to judgment.

58. In numerous instances from at least January 1, 2009 to March 1, 2012, PRA collected Time-Barred Debt by falsely representing that Consumers had a legally enforceable obligation to pay the Debt.

59. In numerous instances prior to March 1, 2012, PRA sent letters containing time-limited settlement offers that failed to disclose that the debt it was collecting was too old for litigation. PRA's letters seeking to settle Time-Barred debt contained statements such as, "These savings won't last long . . .," "CALL NOW to take advantage of these limited time offers," "Your first payment must be received NO LATER than . . .," and "Your account will be considered 'Settled in Full' after your final payment is posted."

Violations of the Consumer Financial Protection Act

60. Covered persons are prohibited from engaging “in any unfair, deceptive, or abusive act or practice” in violation of the CFPA. 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531 and 5536(a)(1)(B).

61. Respondent is a “covered person” within the meaning of the CFPA, 12 U.S.C. § 5481(6).

62. Respondent made numerous misrepresentations to Consumers in connection with attempting to collect Debts, a Consumer financial product or service.

False or Unsubstantiated Representations About Owing a Debt, in Violation of the CFPA

63. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt from Consumers, Respondent represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that Consumers owed Debts to Respondent with certain unpaid balances, interest rates, and payment due dates. Respondent further represented to Consumers directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that Respondent had a reasonable basis for representing that Consumers owed the claimed Debts to Respondent.

64. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances the representations set forth in Paragraph 63 were false or were not substantiated at the time the representations were made, including but not limited to where:

- a. Consumers disputed, challenged, or questioned the validity or accuracy of the Debt and Respondent failed to review information that would have been necessary to have a reasonable basis to continue collecting on that Debt; or
- b. Respondent had knowledge or reason to believe, based on contractual terms or past performance of accounts sold by a seller, that a specific portfolio of accounts contained unreliable data, but Respondent failed to obtain and review information that would have been necessary to have a reasonable basis to collect on the Debt.

65. The representations are material because they are likely to affect a Consumer's choice or conduct regarding how to respond to an allegedly outstanding Debt and are likely to mislead Consumers acting reasonably under the circumstances.

66. The representations set forth in Paragraph 63 are false or misleading and constitute deceptive acts or practices in violation of Sections 1031(a) and 1036(a) of the CFPA, 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531(a) and 5536(a).

Misrepresenting that PRA Intends to Prove the Debt,
If Contested, in Violation of the CFPA

67. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt from Consumers through litigation or threats of litigation, Respondent represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that PRA intends to prove its claims, if contested.

68. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances, Respondent did not intend to prove its claims, if contested.

69. These representations are material because they are likely to affect a Consumer's choice or conduct regarding whether to pay the Debt or contest the lawsuit and are likely to mislead Consumers acting reasonably under the circumstances.

70. The representations set forth in Paragraph 67 are false or misleading and constitute deceptive acts or practices in violation of Sections 1031(a) and 1036(a) of the CFPA, 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531(a) and 5536(a).

Filing Misleading Collection Affidavits in Violation of the CFPA

71. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt from Consumers, in Affidavits filed in courts across the country, Respondent represented directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that:

- a. PRA affiants had reviewed account-level documentation from the original creditor corroborating the Consumer's Debt;
- b. Documents attached to affidavits were specific to the Consumer; or
- c. PRA affiants were familiar with the content of account agreements.

72. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances:

- a. PRA's affiants had not reviewed account-level documentation from the original creditor corroborating the Consumer's Debt;
- b. Documentation attached to affidavits was not specific to the Consumer; or

- c. PRA affiants were not familiar with the content of account agreements because, for example, the account agreements at issue were no longer available for affiants to review.

73. These representations are material because they are likely to affect a Consumer's choice or conduct regarding how to respond to a lawsuit and are likely to mislead Consumers acting reasonably under the circumstances.

74. The representations set forth in Paragraph 71 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 1031(a) and 1036(a) of the CFPA, 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531(a) and 5536(a).

Misrepresentations Regarding Time-Barred Debt, in Violation of the CFPA

75. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt that is beyond the applicable statute of limitations from Consumers, Respondent represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that Consumers had a legally enforceable obligation to pay the Debt.

76. In truth and in fact, Consumers do not have a legally enforceable obligation to pay Debt that is beyond the applicable statute of limitations.

77. These representations are material because they are likely to affect a Consumer's choice or conduct regarding how to respond to an allegedly outstanding Debt claim and are likely to mislead Consumers acting reasonably under the circumstances.

78. The representations set forth in Paragraph 75 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 1031(a) and 1036(a) of the CFPA, 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531(a) and 5536(a).

Misrepresentations Regarding Attorney Review

79. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt, Respondent represented to Consumers, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that an attorney has reviewed the Consumer's Debt or that the collector is calling on the attorney's behalf.

80. In truth and in fact, an attorney had not reviewed the Consumer's Debt and the collector was not calling on behalf of an attorney.

81. These representations are material because they are likely to affect a Consumer's choice or conduct regarding how to respond to an allegedly outstanding Debt and are likely to mislead consumers acting reasonably under the circumstances.

82. The representations set forth in Paragraph 79 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 1031(a) and 1036(a) of the CFPA, 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531(a) and 5536(a).

Misrepresentations of Imminent Litigation

83. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt, Respondent represented to Consumers, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that litigation was planned, imminent, or even underway.

84. In truth and in fact, litigation was not planned, imminent, or underway because PRA had not decided whether to file suit.

85. These representations are material because they are likely to affect a Consumer's choice or conduct regarding how to respond to an allegedly outstanding Debt and are likely to mislead consumers acting reasonably under the circumstances.

86. The representations set forth in Paragraph 83 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 1031(a) and 1036(a) of the CFPB, 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531(a) and 5536(a).

Misrepresentations about Computer Dialing System Calls

87. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt, Respondent represented to Consumers, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that consumers cannot prevent collection calls on their cell phones before 9 a.m. local time unless they consent to receiving computer dialing system calls on their cell phones.

88. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances, consumers can prevent collections calls on their cell phones before 9 a.m. local time even if they do not consent to receiving computer dialing system calls on their cell phones. Under Section 805(a)(1) of the FDCPA, PRA is prohibited from calling consumers at any time PRA knows or should know is inconvenient to consumers. Consumers can simply tell PRA that it is inconvenient to call before 9 a.m. local time and PRA is prohibited from doing so. Further, absent information to the contrary, Section 805(a)(1) requires debt collectors to assume that the convenient time for communicating with consumers is after 8 a.m. local time.

89. These representations are material because they are likely to affect a consumer's choice or conduct regarding whether to provide consent to receive computer dialing system calls on a cell phone and are likely to mislead consumers acting reasonably under the circumstances.

90. The representations set forth in Paragraph 87 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 1031(a) and 1036(a) of the CFPA, 12 U.S.C. §§ 5531(a) and 5536(a).

Violations of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act

91. Section 807 of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. § 1692e, prohibits debt collectors from using any false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means in connection with the collection of any debt. Section 807(2)(A) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(2)(A) specifically prohibits the false representations of the character, amount, or legal status of any debt. Section 807(5) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(5) specifically prohibits the threat to take any action that cannot legally be taken or that is not intended to be taken. Section 807(10) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. § 1692e(10), prohibits using false representations or deceptive means to collect or attempt to collect any debt or to obtain information concerning a consumer.

92. Respondent is a "debt collector" within the meaning of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(6).

93. Respondent made numerous representations to consumers in connection with attempting to collect debts arising out of transactions primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

False or Unsubstantiated Representations About Owning a Debt, in Violation of the FDCPA

94. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt from Consumers, Respondent represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that Consumers owed Debts to Respondent with certain unpaid balances, interest rates, and payment due dates. Respondent further represented to Consumers directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that Respondent had a reasonable basis for representing that Consumers owed the claimed Debts to Respondent.

95. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances the representations set forth in Paragraph 94 were false or were not substantiated at the time the representations were made, including but not limited to where:

- a. Consumers disputed, challenged, or questioned the validity or accuracy of the Debt and Respondent failed to review information that would have been necessary to have a reasonable basis to continue collecting on that Debt; or failed to obtain and review information that would have been necessary to have a reasonable basis to collect on the account.
- b. Respondent had knowledge or reason to believe, based on contractual terms or past performance of accounts sold by a seller, that a specific portfolio of accounts contained unreliable data, but Respondent

96. The representations set forth in Paragraph 94 are false or misleading and constitute deceptive acts or practices in violation of Sections 807 and 807(10) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(10).

Misrepresenting that PRA Intends to Prove the Debt,
If Contested, in Violation of the FDCPA

97. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt from Consumers through litigation or threats of litigation, Respondent represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that PRA intends to prove its claims, if contested.

98. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances, Respondent did not intend to prove its claims, if contested.

99. The representations set forth in Paragraph 97 are false or misleading and constitute deceptive acts or practices in violation of Sections 807, 807(5), and 807(10) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(5), 1692e(10).

Filing Misleading Collection Affidavits, in Violation of the FDCPA

100. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt from Consumers, in affidavits filed in courts across the country, Respondent represented directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that:

- a. PRA affiants had reviewed account-level documentation from the original creditor corroborating the consumer's debt;
- b. Documents attached to affidavits were specific to the consumer; or
- c. PRA affiants were familiar with the content of account agreements.

101. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances:

- a. PRA's affiants had not reviewed account-level documentation from the original creditor corroborating the consumer's debt;
- b. Documentation attached to affidavits was not specific to the consumer; or
- c. PRA affiants were not familiar with the content of account agreements because, for example, the account agreements at issue were no longer available for affiants to review.

102. The representations set forth in Paragraph 100 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 807, and 807(10) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(10).

Misrepresentations Regarding Time-Barred Debt, in Violation of the FDCPA

103. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt that is beyond the applicable statute of limitations from Consumers, PRA represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that Consumers had a legally enforceable obligation to pay the Debt.

104. In truth and in fact, Consumers do not have a legally enforceable obligation to pay Debt that is beyond the applicable statute of limitations.

105. The representations set forth in Paragraph 103 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 807, 807(2)(A), 807(5), and 807(10) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(2)(A), 1692e(5), 1692e(10).

Misrepresentations of Attorney Review

106. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt from Consumers, Respondent represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that an attorney has reviewed the Consumer's Debt or that the collector is calling on the attorney's behalf.

107. In truth and in fact, an attorney had not reviewed the Consumer's Debt and the collector was not calling on behalf of an attorney.

108. The representations set forth in Paragraph 106 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 807 and 807(10) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(10).

Misrepresentations of Imminent Litigation

109. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt from Consumers, Respondent represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that litigation is planned, imminent, or even underway.

110. In truth and fact, litigation was not planned, imminent, or underway because PRA had not decided whether to file suit.

111. The representations set forth in Paragraph 109 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 807, 807(2)(A), and 807(10) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692e, 1692e(2)(A), 1692e(10).

Misrepresentations about Computer Dialing System Calls

112. In numerous instances during the Relevant Period, in connection with collecting or attempting to collect Debt from Consumers, Respondent represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that consumers cannot prevent collection calls on their cell phones before 9 a.m. local time unless they consent to receive computer dialing system calls on their cell phones.

113. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances, consumers can prevent collections calls on their cell phones before 9 a.m. local time even if they do not consent to receiving computer dialing system calls on their cell phones. Under Section 805(a)(1) of the FDCPA, PRA is prohibited from calling consumers at any time PRA knows or should know is inconvenient to consumers. Consumers can simply tell PRA that it is inconvenient to call before 9 a.m. local time and PRA is prohibited from doing so. Further, absent information to the contrary, Section 805(a)(1) requires debt collectors to assume that the convenient time for communicating with consumers is after 8 a.m. local time.

114. The representations set forth in Paragraph 112 are false or misleading and constitute a deceptive act or practice in violation of Sections 807 and 807(10) of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. § 1692e, 1692e(10).

foregoing, such substantiation must include reviewing Original Account-Level Documentation reflecting the Consumer's name and the claimed amount excluding any post Charge-off or post-judgment payments (unless the claimed amount is higher than the Charge-off Balance or judgment balance, in which case Respondent must review (i) Original Account-Level Documentation reflecting the Charge-Off Balance or judgment balance and (ii) an explanation of how the claimed amount was calculated and why such increase is authorized by the agreement creating the Debt or permitted by law) under any of the following circumstances:

- i. At any time during the preceding twelve months, a Consumer disputed, orally or in writing, the accuracy or validity of a Debt in the Portfolio and Respondent sought but was unable to obtain Original Account-Level Documentation reflecting the amount of the Debt or the identity of the person responsible for the Debt, unless (i) Respondent can establish, based on a documented and thorough review of Original Account-Level Documentation concerning a sample of other Debts in the Portfolio, that the inability to obtain Original Account-Level Documentation to support the Debt in the Portfolio was an anomaly; or (ii) the inability to obtain Account-Level Documentation reflecting the amount of the Debt was caused by a documented balance adjustment made by a Creditor after Respondent acquired the Portfolio containing the Debt (for example, balance adjustments caused by a Creditor's audit or restitution);
- ii. Original Account-Level Documentation produced to Respondent, by a Seller or a Consumer, reflected information about the amount of the Debt or the identity of the person responsible for the Debt that was inconsistent and irreconcilable with information previously provided to Respondent by the seller, unless (i) Respondent can establish, based on a documented and thorough review of Original Account-Level Documentation concerning a sample of other Debts in the Portfolio, that the production of inaccurate or inconsistent information concerning the Debt in the Portfolio was an anomaly; or (ii) the inconsistency was caused by a documented balance adjustment made by a Creditor after Respondent acquired the Portfolio containing the Debt (for example, balance adjustments caused by a Creditor's audit or restitution).

117. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Respondent is not required pursuant to this Paragraph to (i) refuse to accept any payments voluntarily submitted by Consumers; (ii) suspend collections for Consumers who have acknowledged the Debt and agreed to make payments; or (iii) refuse to communicate with a Consumer who affirmatively contacts Respondent (or Respondent's agents) or requests contact from Respondent (or Respondent's agents) to discuss the Consumer's Debt.

VIII.

PROHIBITION AGAINST THREATENING OR FILING COLLECTION LAWSUITS WITHOUT AN INTENT TO PROVE THE DEBT, IF CONTESTED

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Respondent, Respondent's officers, agents, servants, employees, and attorneys, and all other persons in active concert or participation with any of them, who receive actual notice of this Consent Order, whether acting directly or indirectly, are permanently restrained and prohibited from:

125. Collecting or attempting to collect any Time-Barred Debt through litigation or arbitration.

140. Within 30 days of the Effective Date, Respondent must submit to the Enforcement Director for review and non-objection a comprehensive written plan for providing redress consistent with this Consent Order (“Redress Plan”). The Enforcement Director will have the discretion to make a determination of non-objection to the Redress Plan or direct Respondent to revise it. The Redress Notification Letters sent to Restitution Eligible Consumers receiving Litigation Department Calls Restitution must include language explaining the manner in which the amount of redress was calculated; a statement that the provision of the refund payment is in accordance with the terms of this Consent Order; and may include a statement that Respondent is not waiving its right to collect the remaining amount of the Debt, if any, in excess of any refund payment made under this Consent Order. Respondent must not include in any envelope containing a "Redress Notification Letter" any materials other than the approved letters and redress checks, unless Respondent has obtained written confirmation from the Enforcement Director that the Bureau does not object to the inclusion of such additional materials.

142. The Redress Plan must include a description of the following:

iii. Respondent must make reasonable attempts to obtain a current address for any Restitution Eligible Consumer whose Redress Notification Letter and/or restitution check is returned for any reason, using the National Change of Address System, and must promptly re-mail all returned letters and/or restitution checks to current addresses, if any. If the check for any Restitution Eligible Consumer is returned to Respondent after such second mailing by Respondent, or if a current mailing address cannot be identified using National Change of Address System, Respondent must retain the restitution amount of such Restitution Eligible Consumer for a period of three-hundred sixty (360) days from the date the restitution check was originally mailed, during which period such amount may be claimed by such Restitution Eligible Consumer upon appropriate proof of identity. After such time these monies will be deposited into the U.S. Treasury as disgorgement.

143. The Redress Plan shall allow for a reduction in the amount of any payments previously refunded to a Restitution Eligible Customer by Respondent prior to the Effective Date.

144. If Respondent claims to have made any restitution prior to the Effective Date of this Consent Order that complies with the requirements of this Consent Order, Respondent must provide appropriate proof of such restitution to the Enforcement Director.

145. After completing the Redress Plan, if the amount of redress provided to Restitution Eligible Consumers is less than $19,045,443, within 30 days of the completion of the Redress Plan, Respondent must pay to the Bureau, by wire transfer to the Bureau or to the Bureau's agent, and according to the Bureau's wiring instructions, the difference between the amount of redress provided to Restitution Eligible Consumers and $19,045,443.

146. The Bureau may use these remaining funds to pay additional redress to Restitution Eligible Consumers. If the Bureau determines, in its sole discretion, that additional redress is wholly or partially impracticable or otherwise inappropriate, or if funds remain after the additional redress is completed, the Bureau will deposit any remaining funds in the U.S. Treasury as disgorgement. Respondent will have no right to challenge any actions that the Bureau or its representatives may take under this Section.

147. Respondent must not condition the payment of any redress to any Restitution Eligible Consumer under this Consent Order on that person's agreement to any condition, such as the waiver of any right.

Assessment of Redress

148. Respondent must retain at its own expense the services of an independent certified accounting firm ("Firm"), within 15 days after the Enforcement Director's non-objection pursuant to Paragraph 140, to determine compliance with the Redress Plan. The Firm shall determine compliance in accordance with the attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for agreed-upon procedures for engagements.

149. Prior to engagement, and no later than 60 days from the Effective Date, Respondent must submit the name and qualifications of the Firm, together with the proposed engagement letter with the Firm and the proposed agreed-upon procedures, to the Enforcement Director for non-objection. Within 15 days after submission of the Firm's name, the Enforcement Director must notify Respondent in writing of the Bureau's objection or non-objection thereto.

150. The Firm must prepare a detailed written report of its assessment of Respondent's compliance with the terms of the Redress Plan ("Restitution Report"). The Restitution Report must include an assessment of the Redress Plan and the methodology used to determine the population of Eligible Consumers, the amount of redress for each Restitution Eligible Consumer, the procedures used to issue and track redress payments, and the work of any independent consultants that Respondent has used to assist and review its execution of the Redress Plan.

151. The Firm must submit the Restitution Report to the Enforcement Director and the Board within 90 days after Respondent completes implementation of the Redress Plan.

XV.

ORDER TO PAY CIVIL MONEY PENALTIES

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that:

152. Under Section 1055(c) of the CFPA, 12 U.S.C. § 5565(c), by reason of the violations of law alleged in Section IV of this Consent Order, and taking into account the factors in 12 U.S.C. § 5565(c)(3), Respondent must pay a civil money penalty of $8,000,000 to the Bureau.

153. Within 10 days of the Effective Date, Respondent must pay the civil money penalty by wire transfer to the Bureau or to the Bureau's agent in compliance with the Bureau's wiring instructions.

155. Respondent must treat the civil money penalty paid under this Consent Order as a penalty paid to the government for all purposes. Regardless of how the Bureau ultimately uses those funds, Respondent must not:

- a. Claim, assert, or apply for a tax deduction, tax credit, or any other tax benefit for any civil money penalty that Respondent pays under this Consent Order; or
- b. Seek or accept, directly or indirectly, reimbursement or indemnification from any source, including but not limited to payment made under any insurance policy, with regard to any civil money penalty paid under this Consent Order.

156. To preserve the deterrent effect of the civil money penalty in any Related Consumer Action, Respondent may not argue that Respondent is entitled to, nor may Respondent benefit by, any offset or reduction of any compensatory monetary remedies imposed in the Related Consumer Action, because of the civil money penalty paid in this action (“Penalty Offset”). If the court in any Related Consumer Action grants such a Penalty Offset, Respondent must, within 30 days after entry of a final order granting the Penalty Offset, notify the Bureau, and pay the amount of the Penalty Offset to the U.S. Treasury. Such a payment will not be considered an additional civil money penalty and will not change the amount of the civil money penalty imposed in this action.

XVI.

ADDITIONAL MONETARY PROVISIONS

157. In the event of any default on Respondent’s obligations to make payment under this Consent Order, interest, computed under 28 U.S.C. § 1961, as amended, will accrue on any outstanding amounts not paid from the date of default to the date of payment, and will immediately become due and payable.

158. Respondent must relinquish all dominion, control, and title to the funds paid to the fullest extent permitted by law and no part of the funds may be returned to Respondent.

159. Under 31 U.S.C. § 7701, Respondent, unless it already has done so, must furnish to the Bureau its taxpayer identifying numbers, which may be used for purposes of collecting and reporting on any delinquent amount arising out of this Consent Order.

160. Within 30 days of the entry of a final judgment, consent order, or settlement in a Related Consumer Action, Respondent must notify the Enforcement Director of the final judgment, consent order, or settlement in writing. That notification must indicate the amount of redress, if any, that Respondent paid or is required to pay to Consumers and describe the Consumers or classes of Consumers to whom that redress has been or will be paid.

XVII.

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

161. Respondent must notify the Bureau of any development that may affect compliance obligations arising under this Consent Order, including but not limited to, a dissolution, assignment, sale, merger, or other action that would result in the emergence of a successor company; the creation or dissolution of a subsidiary, parent, or affiliate that engages in any acts or practices subject to this Consent Order; any default under a lending agreement under Section VII, Paragraph 118(iv); the filing of any bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding by or against Respondent; or a change in Respondent's name or address.
